MAKING CONNECTIONS. BUILDING RELATIONSHIPS.

Criterion	5 • Exceptional	4 • Strong	3 • Satisfactory	2 • Modest	1 • Limited
Impact on the Roundtable	Delivers a step-change. Achieves or accelerates core goals and unlocks new capacity, priorities, or opportunities. Did it change what the Roundtable can achieve?	Delivers clear, tangible progress on the Roundtable's existing goals. Did it clearly move those goals forward?	Supports the Roundtable's work in a meaningful, focused way. Did it support the work in a focused way?	Connects to the Roundtable, but its contribution is still taking shape. Is there a connection, with impact still forming?	Shows little connection to advancing the Roundtable. Is there any visible link to advancing it?
Engagement & Participation	Brings new voices into the Roundtable and turns participants into leaders who own and carry the work forward. Did new people step up as leaders?	Brings new voices in and deepens their involvement and commitment. Did new people join and deepen their involvement?	Generates some new engagement; the path to broader participation is stil forming. Did some new people engage, with a broader path still forming?	Expands participation only slightly beyond those already involved. Did participation grow at all beyond the existing group?	Unlikely to generate new engagement. Is there any sign of new engagement?
Collaboration & Network Building	Forges new connections among participants and across the network, and turns them into active, ongoing collaboration with a clear structure to sustain it. Is collaboration happening, with a structure to sustain it?	Strengthens relationships and opens meaningful opportunities for collaboration. Did it open the door to collaboration?	Builds useful connections with room to grow. Did it build useful connections that can grow?	Expands participation only slightly beyond those already involved. Did participation grow at all beyond the existing group?	Little evidence of relationship-building or collaboration Is there any evidence of relationship-building?
Creativity & Vision	Bold and original. Introduces an approach the Roundtable hasn't seen, showing how dialogue can become action in ways others will want to learn from. Is this a new model, not just a good idea?	Creative and proactive, with a clear, forward-looking approach to an important opportunity. Is this a creative, forward-looking approach to an important opportunity?	Solid initiative with creative elements and a sound vision that is still developing. Is there a sound vision that's still developing?	Largely conventional, with an incremental vision. Is the vision largely conventional?	Offers little beyond familiar approaches. Does it offer anything beyond familiar approaches?
Catalytic & Long-Term Potential	Built to multiply. Sparks additional initiatives, is ready for other Roundtables to replicate, and strengthens the whole network. Will it spread beyond itself?	Strong potential for lasting impact within or beyond the Roundtable. Will it last, within or byeond the Roundtable?	Some staying power; the longer-term effects is not yet clear. Will it have some staying power?	Impact stays close to the immediate initiative and its participants. Will its impact stay close to the initiative?	Unlikely to outlast the immediate activity. Will it outlast the immediate activity?

Purpose. The Roundtable Impact Prize honors initiatives born in a Global Jewry Roundtable that turn conversation into action. We seek projects that advance the Roundtable's work, bring new people in, deepen collaboration among participants, and open new leadership across the Global Jewry community.

Prize. $10,000 in seed funding, with 50% at award and 50% upon a six-month progress report, plus visibility across the Global Jewry network. Built to catalyze initiatives that prove the lasting value of the Roundtable process.
